

TALI Z. KLAPACH

Tali Klapach is a partner at Klapach & Klapach, where she practices exclusively in the area of trusts and estates. Ms. Klapach graduated with honors from Princeton University and Yale Law School, where she served as Editor of the Yale Law Review. After graduation, Ms. Klapach clerked for the Honorable Ralph K. Winter, Chief Judge, on the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and then practiced for seven years at Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP and De Castro, West, Chodorow, Glickfeld & Nass, two prestigious law firms in California. In 2006, Ms. Klapach started her own practice in trusts and estates. Ms. Klapach has extensive experience planning for high net worth individuals as well as individuals with more modest assets. In each matter, Ms. Klapach strives to provide her clients with the highest quality service and to serve as an ongoing resource and advisor.

Education

Yale Law School, J.D., 1998; Editor, Yale Law Journal

Princeton University, A.B., 1993, Comparative Literature

Clerkship

Clerk to Chief Judge Ralph K. Winter, United States Court of Appeal, Second Circuit, 1998-1999